To the Honorable Clerk of the Court,

I am waiting to get some clarification on what direction i am supposed to take. My direct appeal has been denied and my appellate attorney has deserted me with no direction. I've spoken with a friend of mine who knows a little about the the law. He informed me of something called an re hearing en-banc and writ of certiorari. If possible I'll like to do both. I don't know if i have any time limits, but if i do could you please issue a stay in my case to get my case in some order. I've been going through it just trying to obtain a copy of my trial transcripts. At least with these i can try to help myself. Is it anything the Courts could do to him send me a copy of my transcript. I beg for the Courts mercy and assistance in this matter.

Sincerely Submitted
Aaron B. Perkins

PB Can I do a re hearing en-Banc and can I have more time.
